

Braulio Rojas

RSG Senior Consultant Braulio Rojas is a Penn State graduate in the fields of History and Social Anthropology. In addition to his long track record in the United States, Braulio was born and raised in Santiago Chile and holds a master's degree in marketing and business from Universidad Mayor, Santiago Chile. Braulio and his family are based in Santiago, Chile where he has spent the last 8 years working in the business development, sales and B2B Marketing space supporting global entities to enter the Chilean market.

Braulio's work in the field of social anthropology includes extensive research: The ancient Easter Island peoples and how they transported their lithic statues; in-depth evaluation of the 1777 and 1778 time period, specifically focused on the winter encampment of the Continental Army under General George Washington in the Valley Forge area, Pennsylvania.

Braulio is very passionate about advocating for equal access to quality education for Chileans. To that end, he has volunteered for the last 8 years with various organizations focused on education access. His work includes teaching older people various subject matters to obtain their GEDs